15 YEARS OF BUILDING
TANZANIA CIVIL SOCIETY

Since 2003, the Foundation for Civil Society (FCS) has been building the Tanzanian civil society sector into one of the most vibrant in Africa. It provides grants and capacity building services that strengthen the technical and institutional capacity of Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) while supporting initiatives geared towards nurturing dialogue platforms between CSOs, Members of Parliament, Government, Private Sector and Development Partners in national development processes.

The most recent estimate suggests Tanzania has more than 20,000 CSOs working on a wide range of thematic areas. This is a big collective of organisations bringing together people working to support the government’s national development efforts. In collaboration with other stakeholders, Foundation has generated this directory to fill the vacuum of information about CSOs and the civil society sector in the country. It provides a comprehensive database for linking those within the sector and serve as a guide to those who seek information about it.

The information contained in the directory will enable CSOs working in various sectors and target groups to know one another, facilitate information sharing and networking. To a large extent the directory provides information to other stakeholders interested to work with the civil society in various areas including governance, advocacy, research, human rights, Education, health etc.; aiming at creating linkages between and within the sector.
This directory will be updated regularly to improve the accuracy of its information. However, there may be gaps in information for some organisations, which we hope to build upon in subsequent editions.

We have tried to a large extent to verify the information collected from the field but we will be grateful to receive any corrections or updates for the future editions. For those organisations whose information may not have appeared in this edition, we request you to send us relevant information so we can continue expanding this database.

Foundation will circulate the directory all over the country so that the CSOs and the whole civil society sector can benefit by having access to the information. The directory is also available on our website www.thefoundation-tz.org.

We hope you will find this directory useful.
